REARVIEW MIRROR

Sometimes when we look back on a situation, we can see things more clearly than we did while they were taking place. God’s faithfulness to Daniel from the very beginning laid a foundation that would serve Daniel throughout his life. Read Daniel 1:3-21 and 6:1-23. Imagine that you are a mature Daniel, sitting in the den of lions. Use the prompts below to create a monologue from Daniel’s perspective.

Here I am surrounded by hungry beasts who are as tame as kittens around me! It makes me think about the danger I anticipated when I was first brought to Babylon.

During those first years, my captors tried to turn me from a child of Israel into a Babylonian. They . . . (see Daniel 1:3-7)

I could have outright refused to follow any orders. But God led me to . . . (see vv. 8-14)

After our course of study, my friends and I earned a great reputation. Our captors discovered that a faithful Jew is superior to a Jew imitating a Babylonian when . . . (see vv. 15-21)

Lesson 7, Daniel 3:19-23, 26-28, KJV

Between a Rock and a Hard Place

Read through the following situations. What would you do in each one?

Your best friend wants to take you out for a nice dinner to celebrate your birthday. She’s heard rave reviews about the new sushi place in town, and she even bought a Groupon so the two of you can go. Problem is, you HATE even the thought of sushi. What do you do?

Your grandson made you a tie at school. Out of felt. And chenille wire. And glittery pom-poms. You might even be allergic to it. But he can’t wait to see you wear it at his kindergarten graduation this weekend! What do you do?

A family from out of state moved in next door, so you left them a note inviting them over for a Saturday cookout. They stopped over to accept, and only then did you notice the multiple piercings, neck tattoos, and black fingernails—and that was just the dad! You’re pretty sure they won’t be comfortable around the other friends you also invited. What do you do?

A guy at work is trying to start a morning devotional group. You think it’s a great idea, but your boss obviously does not. You’re up for a really big promotion, so it’s important to stay on your boss’s good side. So when you’re specifically asked to join the devotional group, you feel more than a little torn. What do you do?

A Prayer for an Obedient Faith

Lesson 8, Daniel 9:4-8, 15-19, KJV

Mark My Words

Something has been lost in translation! Read through Daniel’s prayer of Daniel 9:4-8 and make the needed corrections.

I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made my excuses, and said, O Lord, the threatening and dreadful God, keeping the anger and judgment to them that love him, and to them that keep his rules;

We have been victims, and have committed no wrong, and have done the best we could, and have tried, even by departing from thy precepts and from thy judgments:

Neither have we spoken unto thy deceivers the prophets, which lied in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto us, but unto thee confusion of wrongdoing, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their innocence that they have trespassed against no one.

O Lord, to us belongeth justification of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have done nothing wrong.
