

Best of the Worst

The Charles Dickens classic, A Tale of Two Cities, begins with a series of contrasts. Complete this famous quote by unscrambling the contrasting words.

It was the STEB of times, BEST it was the SWOTR of times, WORST it was the age of DWSIMO, _____ it was the age of IHSSOFELON, _____ it was the epoch of ELEIFB, _____ it was the epoch of TDLNYRIUECI, _____ it was the season of TILGH, _____ it was the season of SKENADRS, _____ it was the spring of PHOE, _____ it was the winter of EDPSRIA, _____ we had NVYEGHITER before us, _____ we had GOHINTN before us, _____ we were all going direct to EVENHA, _____ we were all going direct the other way.